

Kathrine van den Bogert

Dr. Kathrine van den Bogert defended her PhD thesis 'Playing Gender, Religion, and Ethnicity. Girls' Football and Public Playgrounds in the Schilderswijk, The Hague, the Netherlands' at Utrecht University on 17 April 2019. She started on 1 May 2019 as a post-doc at the departments of Gender and Diversity and Cultural Anthropology and Development Studies at Radboud University Nijmegen.

Isadora Cardoso

Isadora Cardoso MA graduated from the MA studies in Globalisation and Development at Maastricht University and was one of the LOVA Marjan Rens Master's Thesis Award winners laureates this year. Isadora now works at GenderCC - Women for Climate Justice e.V., a feminist NGO working with climate change issues.

Annelies Moors

Prof. dr. Annelies Moors delivered her Valedictory Lecture entitled 'Liberating the Money, Liberating the Sperm: Social Reproduction, Living Islam and the Palestinian Ethnography Revisited' on 6 December 2019. On this occasion, she achieved the emeritus status.

Hanneke Pot

Dr. Hanneke Pot started working as a lecturer at the Hanze University of Applied Science in Groningen. As a medical anthropologist, she also started her own consultancy business 'Global Health Ethnography' in 2019.

Naomi van Stapele

Dr. Naomi van Stapele started working as Assistant Professor 'Urban Governance and Development Policy' at the International Institute of Social Studies (ISS) of Erasmus University Rotterdam (EUR) in April 2019. Her research explores resilience as a condition of urban life in cities in which the majority of residents live in marginalised, underserved, and highly surveilled neighbourhoods.